FUNÉRAIRE PARIS 2025: All experts will be there

With just 2 months to go before opening, FUNÉRAIRE PARIS 2025 is confirming its strong momentum, with 230 exhibitors already registered, including 78 new and 36 international companies. Two major institutions are also joining the list: the DGCL (the French General directorate for local authorities) and the CRAMIF (Île-de-France Regional Health Insurance Fund).

The Associations Village is also expanding, growing from 3 to 10 organizations. Among the new participants are Patrimoine Aurhalpin with Le Printemps des cimetières and Le Souvenir Français, both focusing on cemetery-related themes, alongside other committed players connected to the profession.

Program highlights: the Funéraire d'Or Awards return for a 2nd edition, shining a spotlight on manufacturers, distributors, and service providers in the funeral sector exhibiting at the trade exhibition. The jury will nominate candidates for the Visitors' Award and select winners in three categories: Products, Services, and Sustainable Development.

The jury is composed of 5 industry experts:

- Nuria Capdevila, FIAT-IFTA member and director of CIRCLE Corporation, specialized in sustainability and eco-design,
- Sarah Boucault, journalist specializing in death-related topics,
- Maria Da Silva, managing director of SIFUREP (Intercommunal Funeral Union in the Paris Region),
- Didier Belluard, former administrator and SAF (The French Trade Association for Funeral Art) representative,
- Guillaume Fontaine, former president and FNF (French National Funeral Federation) representative.

Visitor registration is open! All funeral professionals can book their badges today on the official exhibition website to ensure they don't miss this unmissable event.

The entire sector will gather at the 20th edition of FUNÉRAIRE PARIS three days of meetings and exchanges.
